

- Food we eat depends on bees, butterflies and other insects.
- Butterflies are insects.
- Butterflies and Honey Bees have four wings.

- Honey Bees' wings move 12,000 times per minute.
- Bees feed on nectar and pollen by using a long tongue.
- Bees warn other bees of danger by dancing.
- You can plant flowers that bloom from spring to fall.
- Wind can move pollen from flower to flower.